

CONVENTION OF 25 OCTOBER 1980 ON THE CIVIL ASPECTS OF INTERNATIONAL CHILD ABDUCTION

FOREWORD TO THE COUNTRY PROFILE

This Country Profile¹ should be used by Contracting States² to assist with fulfilment of the obligations contained within Article 7 of the Convention of 25 October 1980 on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction (1980 Child Abduction Convention or Convention). In particular, it is anticipated that the Country Profile will help Contracting States fulfil their obligations under Article 7(2)(e) and 7(2)(i) of the Convention, that is:

- To provide information of a general character on the law of their State in connection with the application of the Convention; and
- To keep other Central Authorities informed regarding the operation of the Convention in their State and to eliminate any obstacles to the Convention's application.

The Country Profile is intended to assist with the practical operation of the Convention. It is hoped that it will facilitate:

- a) information exchanges between Contracting States;
- b) knowledgeable service by Central Authorities under the 1980 Child Abduction Convention;
- c) cost-effective translation of the information provided by Contracting States into English, French, Spanish, and other languages as required by Contracting States; and
- d) prompt updates of the information provided.

NEWLY ACCEDING STATES:

It should be noted that the Country Profile does not replace the "Standard questionnaire for newly acceding States" (available at www.hcch.net under "Child Abduction Section" then "Questionnaires and responses"). The Standard Questionnaire provides a means for newly acceding States to describe promptly, and in brief, the measures taken in their State to ensure compliance with their Convention obligations and to ensure the effective practical operation of the Convention in their State. It thereby assists States already Party to the Convention with their decision as to whether to accept an accession. Newly acceding States are encouraged to complete this full Country Profile as soon as is practicable.

INSTRUCTIONS:

- Please mark the box which best represents the arrangements in your State:
 - Where the response requires either "Yes" or "No", please mark one box only.
 - For all other questions, it may be necessary to mark more than one box.
- Where applicable, please specify the relevant provision(s) of your domestic legislation and indicate how the legislation may be accessed, e.g., website, or provide a copy of the legislation.

² Any reference to a Contracting State in this Country Profile is a reference to a Contracting State of the 1980 Child Abduction Convention.

- Please complete a separate profile for each territorial unit if there are significant differences in the substance and operation of the laws in each.
- Please note: the information contained in the Country Profile is of a general nature only. The purpose of the Country Profile is to assist with the practical operation of the Convention and not to provide a comprehensive picture of the legal system of each Contracting State. Please consider this when completing the Country Profile and when using the Country Profile of other Contracting States. Please contact the relevant Central Authority for clarification or specific advice.
- Contracting States are exclusively responsible for updating the information contained in their Country Profile. However, reminders for updates will be provided by the Permanent Bureau of the Hague Conference on Private International Law (HCCH).
- Completed Country Profiles will be published on the website of the HCCH (www.hcch.net).
- The Permanent Bureau of the HCCH has prepared a number of resources which may assist States in the effective implementation and operation of the Convention, in particular Guides to Good Practice. See www.hcch.net under “Child Abduction Section” for further information in this regard.

TERMINOLOGY:

- Whilst it is acknowledged that in some Contracting States the formal applicant to a return or access application under the Convention may be a State authority (see question 10.3 b) below), please note that the term “applicant” is used in the Country Profile as follows:
 - a) In relation to a return application, the term “applicant” denotes the person, institution or other body alleging that their actually exercised rights of custody in relation to a child have been breached by the removal or retention of the child, in accordance with Article 3 of the Convention; and
 - b) In relation to an access application, the term “applicant” denotes the person, institution or other body seeking to establish and / or exercise rights of access in relation to a child under Article 21 of the Convention.
- The term “abducting party” or “alleged abducting party” in the Country Profile refers to the person, institution or other body who has, or is alleged to have, wrongfully removed or retained a child in accordance with Article 3 of the Convention.

- a) What measures are being taken to ensure that persons responsible for implementing the Convention (e.g., judges, lawyers and Central Authority personnel) have received appropriate information and training?

Please contact the Permanent Bureau for information in relation to forms of assistance which may be available for this purpose

- Training as required for Central Authority staff
- Training as required for responsible authorities
- Updates as required on legal developments related to the Convention provided to staff responsible for its implementation
- Training as required for lawyers
- Training as required for law enforcement
- Other (please specify):

Specifically in respect of judges:

- Sending a basic package of information on the 1980 Convention to judges
- Training through a dedicated judicial studies board
- Participation in judicial training seminars
- Participation in the International Hague Network of Judges
- Accessing The Judges' Newsletter on International Child Protection (available at www.hcch.net under "Child Abduction Section" then "Judges' Newsletter on International Child Protection")
- Other (please specify): Canada has a network of contact judges (known as the Judicial Committee on Inter-jurisdictional Child Protection) for the Hague Convention on International Child Abduction. The Canadian judicial network consists of one judge from the superior courts of each province or territory of Canada, one representative from the Canadian Council of provincial court judges plus the three International Hague Network (IHN) contact judges. Canada's three IHN judges are appointed for fixed, renewable terms.

The role of the Canadian judicial network is to develop procedural protocols, communication guidelines, judicial information materials and training modules with the assistance of the National Judicial Institute of Canada, (referred to as the NJI).

The Canadian judicial network meets annually for a full day to review all incoming and outgoing Hague Convention cases from each jurisdiction; to discuss and add any updates to the electronic benchbook (Hague Convention on International Child Abduction) available to all judges; to review any international judicial communication requests or inquiries and to prepare for participation in Special Commissions pertaining to Hague Conventions as well as international judicial meetings. The Network also invites speakers with expertise to address key and evolving issues.

	In addition, the NJI provides education sessions for all newly appointed judges. Family law proceedings, including inter-jurisdictional cases and the Hague Abduction Convention are included. The NJI provides a range of educational programs and on-line educational resources for all judges, including the electronic benchbook developed by the Canadian judicial network and other materials relating to the Convention.
